What started in 1988 as a one-man automobile tinting business has grown to become one of the leading specialized security companies in the country. A three-time 3M Window Film Dealer of the Year, founder Brad Campbell is an American success story come true. Campbell has built an award-winning business fueled by a lifelong passion to protect schools, homes, retail stores and commercial buildings. In a career spanning more than 25 years, Campbell and his expert team of security and window film specialists have been called to all kinds of crime scenes, listened to the heartfelt stories of victims and provided peace of mind to clients across the country. Innovative, dedicated, and respected for both his street smarts and technical savvy, Campbell most recently has appeared on national TV Shows and has been named "The Security Expert To The Stars".

CrisisGo was founded by team of veterans of the Education Technology and Mobile industries with the vision to transform safety preparation and incident coordination with emergency communication software built for the people. We created a mobile application that combines safety awareness, instructions, and emergency response tools. In case of an incident, it enables faster response by bringing safety teams to people in distress and guides them back to safety using two-way emergency communications.
